

A close-up photograph of a priest in white vestments performing a ritual. The priest's hands are visible, one holding a golden chalice with a white cloth draped over it. In the foreground, there are several ornate glass vessels, likely containing holy water or wine. The background is softly blurred, showing the priest's face and hands. The overall scene is lit with warm, golden light, creating a solemn and sacred atmosphere. The image has a subtle, artistic overlay of golden, crack-like patterns.

PRIEST TRANSITIONS