

13TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“Whoever gives only a cup of cold water to one of these little ones to drink because the little one is a disciple--amen, I say to you, he will surely not lose his reward.” - Mt 10:42

The Blessing of Others

In times of trouble it can be easy to forget about all the blessings in our lives. In this time when we see too many instances in the news of people failing to see the dignity of another because of their race, or creed, or political viewpoint it would be an especially good time to reflect on the blessings that others have been to us.

For me, one person that comes quickly to mind is Mr. Smits. He was my Webelo den leader more than 50 years ago, but the positive impact he had on me is fresh in my mind and heart. I am a quiet person who is always cautious around people I do not know well, but I can't remember ever being uncomfortable around Mr. Smits. He was a great scout leader. We did some traditional scout activities like winter and summer camping and learning how to tie knots. But I also remember some non-traditional things like the evening he brought out his antique harmonica and played it for us while we sang along. I remember his warm smile and patience. But if I have to recall one particular thing he did for me, it is definitely the day he took us ice fishing.

My Dad took me fishing in the summer, but I never even heard of people fishing on the winter. Needless to say, I didn't have any ice fishing gear, but in my family you made do with what you had, so when Mr. Smits pulled in the driveway I went out with my summer fishing pole. I took some razing from the other kids who obviously understood that ice fishing gear was different but Mr. Smits said that my pole would work just fine.

Once we arrived at Clark Lake Mr. Smits showed us how to chisel a hole (a lot more work than the power auger I use now) and helped us all get set up. Most of the other boys got bored quickly and started throwing around a football – some went ice skating. Not me. I have always been a determined fisherman. I stayed and watched my bobber. It didn't budge. Neither did I.

Mr. Smits showed me how to keep the ice from freezing my hole back in. He didn't need to scoop ice out of his hole because it seemed that about every minute or so he was pulling a nice big perch out of it. Over the course of the day he accumulated a pile of perch while I watched my unmoving bobber.

About midafternoon the other boys had had enough and began storing their stuff away and packing for the drive home. Mr. Smits announced to everyone who was ready to leave that he was impressed my determination and we weren't going home until I caught a fish. He then asked if I wanted to use his pole, and if I wanted to fish in his hole? Boy did I! It didn't take long until I saw the bobber nudge just a bit and I pulled. A perch – probably the smallest one of the day, flopped onto the ice. Mr. Smits laughed and patted me on the back with his big mittened hand.

It was dark when we pulled into my driveway. Mr. Smits found my fishing pole and other gear and handed it to me. Then he rummaged around in his bucket of perch and pulled out probably the biggest one that he had caught and handed it to me. "That looks about the size of the one you caught!" he said and handed it to me with a big smile on his face.

I remember going into the back door and showing my Dad the fish "I brought home". I never claimed it as the one I caught but I didn't not claim it either. Until the writing of this column only Mr. Smits and I knew the truth.

Mr. Smits saw something in me that day. I knew in my heart that he saw something in me that day. When someone else sees something in you, it makes you feel better about yourself, even in the face of knowing your own shortfalls.

Now is a good time to see something in someone else. It is a good time for a smile and a pat on the back, even if that pat has to be virtual. You never know the positive impact it may have.

His Peace, Deacon Dan

Weekend Masses

Help us plan for Mass

We are asked to maintain a limit of 25% capacity for mass attendance, therefore, we are going to continue with a reservation system to ensure that everyone is able to find a place at a mass. Those without the internet have the option to contact the parish office for reservation assistance.

The link for reservations is:

<https://reopen.church/r/BmqqWjG4>

It is very easy to use!

1. Click the link (above or on the Quad Parish website)
2. Select the mass that you plan to attend
3. Enter your name
4. Select the number coming to Mass (drop down menu)
5. Enter your email address (so we can send a confirmation reminder)

Please note: We are not retaining any information from this process, except to help us plan. It is our hope that through this planning, we can accommodate all who wish to attend public masses during this unprecedented time.

Here are a few of the more detailed pieces, which you can expect to observe:

- Hand sanitizer available at the entrances of the church.
- Holy Water fonts will remain empty.
- Mask use continues to be encouraged.
- The greeting and sign of peace will be omitted.
- Bulletins will be available for distribution after Mass.
- Please continue to use social distancing practices as you enter and exit the churches, as well as when you come forward for communion.

It is important to note that the dispensation from the Sunday Obligation of the Mass remains during this time. The faithful should use their best judgment as to whether or not to attend. Catholics who are not sick or frail due to illness or age are encouraged to return to Mass.

Those who are showing symptoms of illness, even if not COVID related, in the spirit of Christian charity, should choose to remain at home.

Feel free to call with questions: Jennifer (920) 217-3150

Weekday Masses

Daily masses are now open to anyone who would like to attend. Hand sanitizer will be available, pews will be marked off to allow for social distancing and masks are strongly encouraged. WELCOME BACK!!!

Thank you for your patience and understanding as we work through all the details.

MT 10:26-33 This Week's Gospel

Jesus said to his apostles:
 "Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me,
 and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me;
 and whoever does not take up his cross
 and follow after me is not worthy of me.
 Whoever finds his life will lose it,
 and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it.

"Whoever receives you receives me,
 and whoever receives me receives the one who sent me.
 Whoever receives a prophet because he is a prophet will receive a prophet's reward,
 and whoever receives a righteous man because he is a righteous man will receive a righteous man's reward.
 And whoever gives only a cup of cold water to one of these little ones to drink because the little one is a disciple—
 amen, I say to you, he will surely not lose his reward."

Reflection Questions

"Whoever loves...more than me is not worthy of me."
 God asks me to love with my whole mind, heart, strength. What keeps me from loving God or others? What fills my mind and energy so that God has little or no place in my life? Am I trying to grow in my relationship with God through prayer?

"Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it."
 Losing my life means that I put others ahead of my self- ish desires. It means giving of my time/money/ambitions so that I can make this world a better place. How am I doing – within my family, my work or school place, in the wider community? The many volunteers who have helped others during this pandemic are inspiring examples I can imitate.

"Whoever gives only a cup of cold water..."
 Not everyone can do the "big" things in life, but I can do the small daily actions that help others to believe in God's love for them. Can I use social media to uplift others rather than for bullying or putting others down? Can I send a note of encouragement to someone who is lonely? What about teaching someone to bake, ride a bike, use their cellphone? Or...?

Let us pray, fast and act to end racial hatred

By Bishop David Ricken

June 17, 2020

Editor's note: This column was based on Bishop Ricken's homily for the televised Mass for Trinity Sunday, June 7, 2020.

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ, all of you daughters and sons of God in northeast Wisconsin, I simply must speak to you about the current situation in our country with regard to the horrible event that happened recently in Minneapolis and the tremendous outcry this has caused in our nation, all on top of the pandemic. What was done to George Floyd was a heinous act, a horrible brutal act crushing out the life of one of our fellow citizens, who from reports desired peace and unity among peoples.

This racial hatred must end and this national wound must be healed. Each of us must take responsibility for any hatred which lurks around in our minds and hearts. Scapegoating and blaming others who are different from us, in our appearance or beliefs must stop. We must show the self-restraint to listen deeply to one another and to engage in honest and respectful dialogue with genuine positive regard for the other.

In the Gospel today for Trinity Sunday we see and hear that clarion call of Jesus in the famous passage from John 3:16-18: "God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life. God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him."

This week the Holy Father, Pope Francis, issued a special message to all of the people of the United States, writing: "We cannot tolerate or turn a blind eye to racism and exclusion in any form and yet claim to defend the sacredness of every human life. At the same time, we have to recognize that the violence of recent nights is self-destructive and self-defeating. Nothing is gained by violence and so much is lost."

It is clear to me that we must listen deeply to those who have been aggrieved, no matter their skin color or language or cultural background, and especially now to our black brothers and sisters.

In order to listen deeply, we must repent of our sins. In the Book of Daniel, 9:9-10, the prophet tells us: "Yours, O Lord our God, are compassion and forgiveness. Yet we rebelled against you and paid no heed to your command." We need to repent every day, like the prophet Daniel, in prayer to our God for mercy upon us all. We must act more like God's people and humble ourselves and pray. We must beg God's forgiveness for ignoring him, for ostracizing him from our personal lives, from our communal lives, from our national lives.

It seems to me that we have been on the present "march of folly" toward independence from God for the last five or six decades. We are having to face now the consequences of our cultural decisions after not respecting the dignity of the human person, the role of God in our lives, the protection of life in all of its stages. Life has become expendable and will be controlled by the strongest and most powerful.

Brothers and sisters, we may be moving into a very delicate place. I do not want to seem alarmist, but the present situation is not sustainable. We must humble ourselves and pray and fast for a miraculous outpouring of the Holy Spirit. We must pray to the Lord who is full of mercy. As St. Faustina describes in her "Diary on Divine Mercy," the capacity of the supply of God's mercy is bountiful. She describes his merciful love as being like oceans of Divine Mercy.

Brothers and sisters, I am preaching to myself as much as I am to you. I know through experience what evil a person in a position of trust can do to an innocent victim and how its effects can last for years. I know how the crimes of a very few can taint the goodness and hard work of the majority who every day give their best to the mission.

Sometimes a culture must be corrected, reformed and set right, but let us not lose sight of the fact that most personnel in law enforcement are good men and women trying to do their level best to serve. The crimes of a few should not be generalized into condemnation of the many good servants of the common good who continually rise to the call of duty.

We must pray and call upon our national leaders and our state and local leaders to put the common good of the country ahead of their own political interests. But we can only promote the common good if we are willing to pursue the good in our individual lives. It has been said, "America is great because she is good. She will cease to be great if she ceases to be good."

Let's pray and fast and call ourselves to a higher standard of practice: to repentance and to forgiveness of those who have aggrieved us. Let us fast by giving up something to which we are accustomed for the sake of love of others so that the generous mercy of Jesus might be poured out upon our diocese, our state, our nation and the world. Jesus does not call us to live this life of discipleship and then not give us the power to live it.

Finally, let us pray for a massive outpouring of the Holy Spirit, that the Holy Spirit will pour out the spiritual ointment of his healing in miraculous ways, wherein people will suddenly be able to let go of past hurts and be almost instantaneously made whole. Let us pray for the grace of the Holy Spirit to teach us to walk the paths of justice and peace, and to love and serve God by loving and serving one another.
